Subject: New ACTA Website and Online Filing System

Dear Kirk:

On behalf the Administrative Council for Terminal Attachments (ACTA), I want to inform you that the ACTA has recently launched a new website and filing system. This update can be found at the same location as the previous website and filing system: <https://www.part68.org>. All previous user login information has been migrated to the new website.

Enhancements to the website and filing system include:

- The filing system is more user-friendly with all filing types now online, thus eliminating the need for users to e-mail or mail paper forms.
- The website includes a user guide and detailed webpage explaining filing types. Additionally, administrative information has been aggregated and moved to a separate repository.
- The ACTA has reviewed and updated its FAQs.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss, do not hesitate to contact me.
